Legion Auxiliary Entertains Royally

A noteworthy luncheon was tendered the Middlesex County Council and 45 visiting units by the Arlington Legion Auxiliary in the cafeteria of the Arlington High School last Saturday at 1 o'clock. The cafeteria was attractively decorated in red and white and greetings of Valentine's Day stood out in great prominence with a huge red lace heart hanging gracefully over the long guest table which was prettily decorated with favors, red candles and fresh cut flowers of carnations and red carnations. The extra fea-

Noted Missionary In Lecture Series At First Baptist

On the four Wednesday evenings of February the members and friends of the First Baptist Church are to be favored by lectures on Burma given by Dr. Harry I. Marshall, President of the great Ensein Seminary of that country. The meetings start at eight o'clock in the chapel. They are to be preceded in each instance by fraternal discussions in the Ladies' Parlor beginning at seven o'clock. The public is invited to both. It is considered rare that an individual church is able to secure a series from a man of such wide experience and able background as Dr. Marshall. He will tell, among other things, how wild men are won from cannibal tribes to the teachings of the gospel, how marauding tribes are civilized, how the most primitive of backward peoples are educated, how missionaries take their lives into their own hands in pushing back the frontiers of heathenism, how bright, promising young men and women from the native tribes are assembled for training as native leaders.

The pastor, Mr. Feagan, is very desirous that a goodly number come for the fraternal discussions that begin promptly at seven o'clock in the Ladies' Parlor. Here will be afforded splendid opportunity for personal fellowship with this great missionary statesman and a "close-up" of those numerous human interest stories that go to make up the church's far flung battle line.

Dr. Franklin P. Hawkes, principal of the Junior High School West, was both elected president for the coming year of the Sachem Council, Inc., of the Boy Scouts of America, and presented a silver beaver for distinguished service to boyhood at the annual meeting and banquet of the Council last Saturday at the Old Belfry Club, Lexington.

DR. F. P. HAWKES

More than ninety scouts from the eight communities making up Sachem Council were present at this annual meeting and banquet.

The speaker at the banquet was Dean Frederick Rand Rogers, director of physical education at Boston University who stated that scouting was the most efficient educational program in existence.

George B. C. Rugg, 44 Kensington Road, was re-elected vice-president of the council. Harold E. Hodgdon, 106 Newport Street, was elected treasurer. Russell P. Wise, 32 Kensington Road, was reappointed chairman of the council.

GETS AWAY WITH THE GROCERIES

John Keane had the misfortune to lose not only his automobile but about sixty dollars worth of groceries belonging to the First National Store, 677 Massachusetts avenue, last Saturday night. Keane parked his car in the Irvington driveway off Pleasant street, while he delivered an order on Lakeview. During his absence a young man got into the machine and drove off in the direction of Belmont.

Radio and teletype were sent out immediately from Arlington headquarters with a description of the thief obtained from Mrs. W. D. Kellogg of the Irvington, and although the machine was recovered by the Belmont police, the groceries had disappeared.

Hendrick is Winchester C. C. Vice-President

Eratus B. Badger was re-elected president of the Winchester Country Club at the annual dinner and meeting held at the club house Tuesday evening. The other officers elected were: Philip A. Hendrick, vice-president; John P. Carr, treasurer; Maurice F. Brown, secretary, while John M. Tobin and Lawrence S. Martin were voted directors to serve three years.

Robert B. Metcalf, secretary, who has served in this capacity for many years, declined to continue. To show the appreciation of his long, tireless and efficient service, his many friends in the Club presented a silver tray and tea service which "Bob" accepted with a brief speech.

FIRE EPIDEMIC FOLLOWS STORM

The fates waited until the plows had completed their work on Arlington streets before an epidemic of fires broke out this week. The most serious occurred Monday morning in the second floor of a two family house at 23 Bow street, owned and occupied by Harry J. Casallou. Considerable damage was done in spite of the fact that the Department responded promptly to an alarm from box 75.

Fire alarms were blown regularly this week for the first time in some years. The practice of blowing the whistle on the first alarm was discontinued because automobiles and crowds of people attracted by the sound blocked the way of fire trucks. But this week the whistle has been blowing to call firemen who were off duty. Realizing the handicap of the heavy snow, Chief Tierney was not going to be caught short-handed in case of a serious fire.

There was an alarm from box 512 Saturday afternoon for a slight blaze in the cellar of the house at 738 Massachusetts avenue, occupied by Persis M. Dolloff. That same evening small damage was done in the living room

SNOW DOES NOT STOP A. V. N. A.

On Friday morning following the big storm of last week, Clifford Cook of the Welfare Department called headquarters of the Arlington Visiting Nursing Association to report a family ill with pneumonia on Turkey Hill and requested that a call be made there by the nurses. Without questioning how they would make the trip, Miss Fandel started immediately with Miss Fisher and Miss Heffernan, nurses.

Driving as far as possible on Park Avenue North, Miss Fandel left the two nurses at the foot of Turkey Hill. One can imagine just how difficult it was to plow through the drifts on foot, but they accomplished the seemingly impossible and brought immediate aid to the sufferers. This is just one of the many acts of mercy performed by the A. V. N. A.

WOMEN WARNED NOT TO FORGET FORGOTTEN WOMAN

A well attended meeting of the Arlington Federation of Women's Church Societies, was held Tuesday afternoon at the Arlington Heights Baptist Church. Mrs. R. D. Kinney, the president, had charge of the meeting. Mrs. J. Clark Wyman, the vice-president, led the devotional exercises.

The speaker of the afternoon was Rev. Mildred Palmer of Arlington, who took for her subject "Being a Good Neighbor." She told her audience not to forget the forgotten woman who had come to this country and while the father and children were out learning the American customs she was at home learning nothing of our ways. She is the one who needs our help.

After the close of the meeting a social hour was enjoyed and refreshments were served by the ladies of the hostess church. The next meeting will be held April 29, at St. John's Episcopal Church on Pleasant Street.

Rev. Barber Gives His Annual Reading

Rev. Laurence L. Barber, entertained a large audience in the vestry of the Orthodox Congregational Church, Sunday night, with the reading of various selections from the poems of Tennyson, Longfellow and Whittier. His "Evening With the Poets" has become an annual custom enjoyed by increasing numbers.

The lives of each of his subjects were briefly outlined, and the characteristics of each poet were explained before the illustrative readings. The selections were varied, chosen with great care, and forcefully and interestingly presented. The speaker explained that Tennyson was English and always English poetically. Longfellow linked England and America, while Whittier was distinctly American, yet from his pen came beautiful poems descriptive of European lands he had never seen.

Leonard Wood punctuated the readings with several violin solos, accompanied on the piano by his mother, Mrs. Harold B. Wood.

SNOW REMOVAL COST IS ABOUT $3,000 PER DAY

Total Amount Will be About $25,000. Takes Three Times Usual Time to Clear Center.

With the costs still mounting no one in authority can yet give a very accurate estimate of the cost of the late snow storm to the town of Arlington, but the guess is that it will be at least $25,000, or about $3,000 per day.

Superintendent O'Brien states that almost never is more than twenty-four hours consumed by the two mechanical snow loaders in clearing Arlington Center. But this time the fluffy water was piled so high that more than three full twenty-four hour days were consumed. East Arlington and the Heights were cleared entirely by hand.

Snow is still being dumped into Mill Pond off Summer Street. Already enough has been piled in to create a sizeable expanse of apparent new land—enough for a new playground, provided that it does not melt away before the football season.

Young People's Sunday At The First Parish

In accordance with a custom of many years' standing the First Parish will conduct its annual young people's service on February 3 at 10:45 p. m.

Rev. John Nicol Mark will preach on "Rock or Sand?" and will be assisted in the service by Miss Marjorie Cutler, Miss Louise Turner and Verne Follonsbee. The Church School will attend.

"Arlington Center" Cars Now Running

Manager Edward Dana of the Boston Elevated Company notified the Selectmen this week that Arlington Center would have a car of its own as soon as the new time tables now in process of engineering are completed. But it was sooner done than said, for already there are "Arlington Center" cars running from Harvard Square.

Some time ago, by instigation of the Selectmen, Massachusetts Avenue from the Library drive to Pleasant Street was widened some few feet in anticipation that the Elevated would then run another car to Arlington. The work was done as an ERA project in order that switching back cars to Harvard Square from the Center would not impede traffic at that point.

Women Needed in Politics as Never Before Says Speaker

The Arlington Women's Republican Club met at the home of Mrs. William A. Muller, 231 Massachusetts Avenue on Wednesday afternoon. The president, Miss Esther Bailey, very graciously introduced the first speaker of the afternoon, Mrs. Louis K. Snyder of the Republican State Committee. She analyzed the figures of the last election showing a gain for the Republican party over their opponents as compared with two years previous.

Mrs. Stephen T. Hurd, director of activities department of the Women's Republican Club of Massachusetts, guest speaker of the afternoon, was next introduced.

Marks Retirement With Party For Church Officers

Mr. and Mrs. Henry A. Kidder gave a dinner at Wyman's Wednesday evening to the deacons, pastor and new moderator of the Orthodox Congregational Church and their ladies. The table was set for eighteen and every seat was occupied. Decorations of jonquils and pretty place cards gave the table a festive appearance, and when the guests were seated every one was ready for the good things which were heaped as an appetizing layout for a cold night.

When full justice had been done to this part of the program, the guests were briefly welcomed by Mr. Kidder, speaking for himself and Mrs. Kidder. Letters were read from Deacon and Mrs. A. C. Cobb and Mrs. Ernest Southwick, expressing regret that ill health prevented attendance. It was announced that it was a farewell party only in the sense that it was a "farewell to care" and that the slogan for the evening was to be "let joy be unconfined."

The program was then placed in the hands of Rev. Mr. Barber as toastmaster, with Earl Lewis as able first assistant. These, with efficient assistance from both ladies

Men's Clubs Join In Lively Meeting

The parish hall of the new St. John's Church on Pleasant street was the scene of a lively supper when members of the Men's Clubs of the Congregational Church were guests of St. John's Men's Club, Monday evening. The full membership of all three clubs evidently responded to the opportunity of partaking of one of Dr. Ernest R. Brooks' specially prepared suppers served by a corps of pretty waitresses from St. John's Church.

The retiring president, J. Milton Washburn, Jr., was the toastmaster and started the music by calling for competitive singing between the clubs. The Congregational Church was declared the winner. Russell Hamlet led the singing, and Carl G. Fowler presided at the piano. The contest between the competing quartets was declared a draw. The Congregational Church presented a lusty male quartet with Emory West, first tenor; Carl Carroll, second tenor; Rev. Laurence L. Barber, baritone, and Stanley Cook, bass, with Clarence Barber as pianist. Equally good was the quartet from St. John's with Wilbur C. Lorenz, first tenor; Carl G. Fowler, second tenor; Arthur W. Sampson, baritone, and D. Hinckley Curdick, bass.

The annual business meeting of the St. John's Men's Club followed when the nominating committee consisting of Fred W. Robinson, chairman; Arthur A. Dodge and William H. Smith, presented the following slate: William H. Bell, president; Arthur W. Sampson, vice-president; John L. Wheatley, secretary; Sven Lawson, treasurer; J. Milton Washburn, Jr., Edward A. Richards and Richard R. Thomas, directors. They were elected for the coming year.

After the tables had been cleared, Samuel E. Killam of the Metropolitan District Commission presented an interesting lecture with a stereopticon covering the origin, history and growth of the Metropolitan Water System.

Arlington Hospital Assessment is Less

The Selectmen have been notified that Arlington's assessment for the Middlesex County Tuberculosis Hospital at Waltham will be $20,913.77 this year, which represents a decrease of nearly two thousand dollars from the amount levied last year. The manner in which the assessment is made up and a comparison with last year appears below:

	1934	1935
Principal .....	$10,000.00	$10,000.00
Interest .....	3,610.48	3,187.50
Maintenance .....	9,153.06	7,726.27

LUKE MANNING TO AGAIN HEAD DEM. COMMITTEE

A meeting was held at the Robbins Memorial Town Hall on Tuesday, by the newly elected Arlington Democratic Town Committee, for the purpose of organization, and the following officers were elected for the term of two years beginning January 1, 1935:

Luke A. Manning, former Chairman of the Board of Selectmen, and candidate for State Senator in the primaries last fall, was re-elected Chairman of the Committee; Mrs. Helen Doyle, Secretary; Mrs. Agnes Sullivan, Treasurer; Paul Griffin, Vice-Chairman. The meeting was largely attended, and many plans were discussed for activities during the coming year.

Fortnightly Club to Give Benefit Dance

A dance under the auspices of the Arlington Fortnightly Club is to be held at Robbins Memorial Town Hall next Friday evening. The entire profits are to be used to defray the cost of sending a tubercular child or children to the Sharon Preventorium. This very deserving cause insures the success of the party. A most delightful social event is anticipated by the chairman, Mrs. John J. Casey, and her able committee which is comprised of more than forty club members who are mothers of sons or daughters. The admission fee includes checking and refreshments. Tickets may be procured from club members or the chairman.

The annual report of the School Department for 1934 has been sent to the Selectmen and presents some interesting facts. Attention is called among other things to the maintenance of creditable standards in the system as a whole, even though some important activities have been necessarily discontinued or curtailed.

Constant and regular attendance is necessary for satisfactory progress, and in this respect the record for the year, an average attendance of over ninety-four percent, has been excellent. This is due to the combined efforts of attendance officers, school physician and nurses, physical training and regular classroom teachers. The general health program has helped greatly and has been well worth while.

Not only in basic subjects, but in

RECOMMEND TOWN NOW SPEND $20,000

Special Town Meeting to be Held Monday Evening for Welfare and Relief Work.

The Finance Committee met recently to consider the two articles in the warrant for the special town meeting which has been called by the Selectmen for next Monday evening. It was voted to recommend the appropriation for $15,000 for engineering, trucking, tools, equipment and materials to carry on certain public works and improvements in connection with the Federal Emergency Relief Administration projects, which would of necessity be abandoned were the town to wait for funds made available by the March town meetings.

It was also voted to recommend the appropriation of $5,000 for work to employ labor not eligible for one reason or another for ERA jobs. It is understood that the town work contemplated is to clean up and beautify Fowles Pond which Arlington is rapidly turning into a park site.

Will Take Woman's Club Members on "Road Back Home"

The meeting of the Arlington Woman's Club next Thursday promises to be one of the most important and interesting of the year. Mrs. John M. Phillips, President of the State Federation of Pennsylvania Women, and recently elected President of the Council of State Presidents of the General Federation of Women's Clubs, is to be the speaker. Her subject, "The Road Back Home" is one on which she is particularly well qualified to speak, since she has spent a great deal of her time in work among young people. Five members of the Arlington Club, Mrs. J. Herbert Mead, the Misses Grafe and Elsie Parker, Mrs. Robert B. Parmenter, and Mrs. Harold B. Wood, heard Mrs. Phillips speak in Richmond last year and heartily recommend her to the Club as a vital and dynamic speaker.

Stevens Fills Vacancy On Finance Committee

The Finance Committee filled a vacancy in its own body last Friday night with the election of William E. Stevens of Wachusett avenue, Precinct 14, to take the place of Harold M. Estabrook, who recently resigned in order to run for the Board of Selectmen in the town election of March 5.

Mr. Estabrook was chairman of the committee and with his resignation the vice-chairman, Arthur O. Davidson, was elected to the head. Mr. Stevens brings the membership of the committee to completion. He is an official in the Forbes Lithographing Company of Boston.

DEATHS

EDWARD M. CLANCY

The funeral of Edward M. Clancy, who died early last Thursday morning of a heart attack after his exertions in the storm the preceding night, were held Saturday morning with high mass of requiem being celebrated in St. Agnes Church. The body was taken to Canton for burial in St. Mary's Cemetery.

Mr. Clancy was connected for thirty-five years with the foreign department of the American Express Company in Boston. At the time of his death he was living at 280 Broadway. He was born in Canton sixty years ago, the son of John E. and Rose (Dorman) Clancy. He is survived by a daughter, Miss Priscilla Rose Clancy of Arlington.

JAMES PETRIE ROSIE

Although the Rosies have not lived here for more than ten years many Arlingtonians will remember them and be grieved to learn that Edgar C. Rosie, now of 28 Rippowam Village, Stamford, Connecticut, lost his three-year-old son, James Petrie, on January 26, after an illness of five months with nephros, a disease very rare in children.

The little lad was buried on January 29 with his grandfather Rosie in Kensico Cemetery, New York. Surviving him are his sister Anne, age five, his parents, his grandmother, Mrs. John D. Rosie, his maternal grandmother, Mrs. E. Hatheway Turnbull, his great-grandmother Rosie, and his great-grandfather, James Petrie Chalmer, for whom he was named, and who is now 91 years old.

MRS. CARRIE M. RICE

Funeral services for Mrs. Carrie M. Rice, wife of Walter E. Rice, head of the Capitol Lending Library, were held Sunday afternoon at one-thirty o'clock from her home at 16 Everett street. Rev. John Nicol Mark, minister of the First Parish (Unitarian Church) officiated. Burial was at Northboro.

Mrs. Rice has lived in Arlington for the past twenty years. Previously she lived in Chelsea and Everett, being born in the latter city May 2, 1875, the daughter of Jason and Emma Coutant Chase. Besides her husband she is survived by a daughter, Miss Helen T. Rice of Arlington, a brother Maurice E. Chase of Arlington and two sisters, Mrs. Clarence Warren of Brockton and Mrs. Arthur N. Stone of Arlington.

MRS. MARGARET LYNCH

Mrs. Margaret Lynch, the widow of Patrick Lynch, who before his death seventeen years ago, was connected with Swift & Co. in Somerville, passed away last Thursday, and funeral services were held Saturday morning from her home at 225 Broadway, high mass of requiem being celebrated in St. Agnes Church by Rev. Justin C. Durocher. Burial was in Holy Cross Cemetery, Malden.

Mrs. Lynch, who has lived in Arlington for the past ten years, was born in Ireland sixty-six years ago. Before coming to Arlington she lived in Somerville for thirty-five years.

She is survived by two sons Daniel F. Lynch of Arlington and John J. Lynch of Belmont; two daughters, Mrs. Mary Lambert of Roxbury and Miss Margaret Lynch of Arlington; a brother, Daniel Sullivan of Cambridge; a sister, Mrs. Levy Davis of Greenville, Maine, and six grandchildren.

MARIE ELEANOR DUNN

Marie Eleanor Dunn, beloved daughter of William H. and Helen M. Dunn, died last Saturday at the Cambridge Hospital. Funeral services were held from her home, 15 Varnum Street, Monday afternoon, at 2 p. m. Her father is well known in Arlington, being active in all matters pertaining to the Veterans of the World War. At present he is quartermaster, Post 1775. He is employed by the New York, New Haven and Hartford R. R. as supervisor. The mother was the former Helen Reardon. Their many friends extend sincere sympathy and condolence to the family.

public relations committee. District Scout Commissioners Richard W. Howe, Hallam T. Ring, Alfred C. Woodward, John O. Matthews, Scout Commissioner for Arlington, and Field Scout Commissioner George W. Greenlaw were re-elected. These elections and appointments took place at the annual business meeting in the early afternoon and the executive board meeting which followed.

After the business sessions discussion groups were held on "Running a Troop Committee" under the leadership of Dr. L. Leland Dudley and George K. Saurwein of Belmont; "A Real Camping Program", led by Tracy W. Ames of Lexington and George W. Greenlaw of Arlington; "Troop Courts of Honor" by Dr. Franklin P. Hawkes of Arlington and Ralph F. Perry of Watertown; "Securing the Interest of Parents" by George B. C. Rugg of Arlington and Kelsey G. Reed of Lexington; "Holding the Older Boy" by William H. Slayton of Waltham and Richard W. Howe of Arlington; and "Cubbing" by Roger C. Fenn of Concord and Alfred C. Woodward of Arlington.

The annual council banquet commenced at 6.30 p. m. At the head table were George W. Butters of Lexington, president of the Council during the past year; Dr. Frederick Rand Rogers; Dr. Franklin P. Hawkes, the newly elected president; vice-presidents George B. C. Rugg and George M. Rand of Bedford; Past President Robert P. Trask, Scout Commissioners, John J. Vantura, Rev. Justin C. Durocher, A. Randall Soderberg, Dr. L. Leland Dudley, Eagle Scout Paul W. Stevens and Scout Executive Richard A. Mellen.

The invocation by Rev. Father Durocher was followed by an excellent dinner during which songs were led by District Scout Commissioner Kelsey G. Reed of Lexington.

Resolutions pledging the Council to support of the ten-year program and in appreciation of the services of George W. Butters as president, adopted at the business meeting, were read by Mr. Soderberg.

Training course certificates were awarded by Dr. Dudley to the following: For the Elements of Scoutmastership course, Clarence A. MacRae, Erald L. Sawyer, Walter C. Sylvia, and Wm. Eckert of Watertown; Harold E. David and Robert H. Mosher of Waltham; Rev. Bradford E. Gale of Lincoln; Scout Advancement Program course, George R. Wright, Alfred

C. Woodward, Richard W. Howe and Philip W. Alsen of Arlington; Albert Flitcroft and George E. Grime of Watertown; Harry T. Barnes and Daniel A. Joy of Belmont and Arthur F. Vincent of Waltham; Winter Camping course, Arthur MacNeill, Wm. Hart Nichols and Arthur A. Nichols of Waltham; Ralph F. Perry and Geo. Ed. Grime of Watertown and Philip Alsen and Alfred C. Woodward of Arlington.

Eagle Scout Paul W. Stevens of Lexington gave an excellent talk in appreciation of scouting, and on behalf of the local and national councils of the Boy Scouts of America, and presented a silver beaver for distinguished service to boyhood to Dr. Franklin P. Hawkes who responded.

Dr. Hawkes has had more than ten years of scouting experience as scoutmaster, troop committeeman, chairman of the council court of honor, merit badge counselor and executive board member. Through his service as chairman of the council court of honor particularly he has impressed many scouts with the purpose and ideals of scouting and has inspired leaders in their work for the boys.

Dr. Rogers in his address emphasized the features of scouting which, through his experience, at present as chairman of the regional committee on education, he believed leaders should emphasize.

Under the direction of Hollis B. MacDougall, troop committeeman in Lexington, a pageant "The Worth of a Boy" was presented by scouts and scouters of Lexington. Among those present from Belmont were: Mr. Vantura, Dr. Garfield, Dr. Dudley, Everett C. Preston, George K. Saurwein, James D. LeVan, Carleton F. Buddington, Lee D. Fuller, Harry T. Barnes, and James A. Moyer.

Among those present from Arlington were: Dr. Hawkes, George W. Greenlaw, Richard W. Howe, Alfred C. Woodward, George P. Langton, Carl A. Everberg, Charles E. Reay, George B. C. Rugg, Russell P. Wise, Leonard Lyons, George R. Wright, Edmond G. Broderick, Peter J. Jerardi, Guy E. Jones, Murray Hendsbee, Hallam T. Ring and Rev. Fr. Durocher.

The committee in charge of this annual meeting were Eric L. Johnson, Mr. Soderberg and Dr. Hawkes.

Modernizing Has 4-Fold Objective Says Chairman

A fourfold aim, with the recovery of local business as the ultimate goal, was announced recently by the Arlington Better Housing Program Committee.

"If the program achieves the degree of success expected of it," states Henry E. Keenan, chairman, many jobless men in Arlington whose livelihood depends upon the many trades and industries related to building will be employed; thousands of idle dollars will reenter circulation; relief expenditures will be reduced; and Arlington properties will increase in value and improve in appearance.

"No group," Mr. Keenan continued, "has been harder hit by the depression than workers in the building industries and trades. New construction has dropped nearly 90 percent from what it was from 1926 to 1929. About one-third of the workers whose families now are on the relief rolls are normally employed in building; and many in factories, transportation, and other fields are indirectly dependent upon this industry for a livelihood. Until these workers are largely reemployed, no community can enjoy a full measure of prosperity.

"The last Congress recognized this fact. The National Housing Act was passed, one of whose purposes is to restore to useful private enterprise the largest group of workers still unemployed.

"Among other things this Act should make available, through private lending agencies, approximately one billion dollars for financing alterations, repairs and improvements upon all types of real property, at the lowest charges ever offered for this type of loan.

"A large part of every dollar spent for modernization goes directly to labor and is immediately put back into the channels of retail trade. More people, therefore, must go to work in other trades, industries, and businesses to handle the increased buying power of the workers directly affected by the plan. Money not paid directly to labor goes for materials. More people are put to work, as a result, to help manufacture the supplies that will be in demand for improvement projects. More men must go to work, subsequently, on the railroads, to help ship the supplies. All this means more money in circulation—more buying power—more business.

"For every building tradesman put to work, it is estimated that a family of four can be taken off the relief rolls. With winter coming, our modernizing campaign will aid greatly to relieve distress among the unemployed and lessen the public burden of caring for them.

"The making of needed repairs not only benefits a property by increasing its usefulness and value, but helps to improve the appearance of the city as well. The modernization campaign should appeal to all those interested in improving the condition and value of their own property and property in general."

Caller Will Explain Better

Within a few days residents of this town may expect to receive a call from a representative of the Arlington Better Housing Campaign Committee.

He will be sent to give you information about the campaign, and the attractive loans which may be secured from local financial agencies authorized by the Federal Housing Administration.

"When this representative comes to your door," Mr. Keenan asks property owners, "invite him in. He has an important message for you, and he will help you obtain the greatest possible benefit from the National Housing Act."

It has been proven that for every representative so calling for a period of one week, work for twelve men can be developed in the repair of homes. Arlington is to have nine representatives.

—Mrs. Robert Smith of Chauncey Street, Cambridge, gave a stocking shower and tea in honor of Elizabeth Smith, whose approaching marriage to Leon Solis of Watertown is of interest to the younger married set in Arlington.

CHURCHES OF CHRIST.

SCIENTIST

"Love" is the subject of the Lesson-Sermon which will be read in all Churches of Christ, Scientist, on Sunday, February 3.

The Golden Text is: "Beloved, if God so loved us, we ought also to love one another" (I John 4:11).

Among the citations which comprise the Lesson-Sermon is the following from the Bible: "Beloved,
let us love one another: for love is
of God; and every one that loveth is born of God, and knoweth God."

And we have known and believed the love that God hath to us.
God is love; and he that dwelleth in love dwelleth in God, and God in him" (I John 4:7, 16).

The Lesson-Sermon also includes the following passages from the Christian Science textbook, "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures" by Mary Baker Eddy:

"A misplaced word changes the sense and mistakes the Science of the Scriptures, as, for instance, to name Love as merely an attribute of God; but we can by special and proper capitalization speak of the love of Love, meaning by that what the beloved disciple meant in one of his epistles, when he said, 'God is love'. . . . More than this we cannot ask, higher we cannot look, farther we cannot go" (pp. 319, 6).

strina. Offertory, "Adagio (1st Sonata) Mendelssohn; Organ Postlude,
"Cartago", Vierne.

The Church School will meet at 10:00 a. m. instead of 9:30 a. m. on this day and after classes will attend the morning service of worship.

Monday afternoon at 2:30, the Philathea Class of the Heights
Baptist Church met with Mrs.
Blanche Brine of 9 Paul Revere Road for luncheon, followed by the annual business meeting. In the evening of the same day, the monthly meeting of the Standing Committee was held in the church vestry. At 2:30 on Tuesday afternoon, the Federated Women's Societies of Arlington, including Ladies Aids, Missionary Societies, and others, met at the Baptist church. The regular prayer and praise service was held last evening in the vestry, followed by the monthly business meeting of the church.

At the December business meeting it was voted to change the church year to synchronize with the year of the Northern Baptist Convention, beginning May 1st and ending April 30th. Final action on the matter and voting for the necessary change in the by-laws of the church were taken at the business meeting held last night.

REV. G. D. FEAGAN COMPLETES HIS 7th YEAR HERE

Sunday, February 3rd will mark the close of seven years' pastorate for
Rev. Grady D. Feagan in Arlington's
First Baptist Church. He was pastor of the First Baptist Church, Lowell, for four years before coming here. The Lowell pastorate was preceded by eight years of pastorate in the South. Next Sunday morning will mark the nineteenth year of his active ministry. By a striking coincidence on the following morning, Monday, he is to be inducted into office as the new President of the Boston Baptist Ministers' Conference.

Sunday morning both Intermediate and Senior Christian Endeavor Societies are to sit in a body at the front of the church. Mr. Feagan's sermon topic will be "The Wonderful Fountain of Youth".

Throughout the month of February the church will maintain evangelistic evening services beginning at 7:30 p. m. The subject Sunday evening is "Waiting for Power". Plenty of congregational singing. Service lasts only one hour.

GIRL SCOUTS

The Arlington Girl Scout Council
had a very happy day last week,
Wednesday, at Cedar Hill, as guests of Mrs. James A. Bailey. Luncheon was served in the Rookery. Afterwards, the members drew up in front of the fire in the hearth, and had a long afternoon of business, for the December meeting had been omitted. The Badges and Awards Committee, Mrs. Charles Mac-Kusick, chairman, had held two meetings. They are in need of first aid teachers for the girls. The Camping Committee, Mrs. Howard Allen, chairman, had a long list of activities, including attendance at a training class.

The winter day camping is growing more and more popular. The traveling chest was reported to have reached the half-way point in its journey. Those whom it had visited were especially interested in its contents. The finance committee is at present the busiest of all. Mrs. James Kidder is the chairman. The annual appeal for funds to cover the $1,500 budget is being made. Letters have been sent out, and a generous response is hoped
for. "Girl Scout Week Ends", a movie trailer, is being shown this week at the Capitol Theatre.

Winter Day Camping

Three Saturdays of winter day camping have already been enjoyed on January 5, 19 and 26 with a total attendance of 63 different girls and 7 different leaders. The program has consisted largely in winter sports as the snow has been very inviting for such activity. Miss Unsworth will be in charge of the group this Saturday, February 2nd,
and the next day will be February 16th. January 26th Mrs. Rogers, captain, was in charge. Leaders:
Mary Leveroni, Bernice Hayes,
Mary MacGillivray, Frances Griffin,
Louise Lester, Dorothy Sutherland,
Frances Donahue and Marion Rogers.

Troop Registrations

The following troops have registered this month, Troops 3, 4, 6, 8, 9 with a splendid attendance.
Troop 2 and Troop 12 are both due to register in February.

Training

The Arlington Council is sponsoring an American Red Cross standard first aid course which is open to anyone interested in first aid technique with special emphasis on the teaching of first aid to Girl Scouts. George Phillip Johnson of the first aid service, Boston Chapter, American Red Cross will conduct the classes. The course will begin on February 12th, from 10:00 to 12:00 a. m. in the Junior Library Hall of the Robbins Memorial Library, and will be every Tuesday morning for eight weeks.
Registrations must be made by February 8th at the Girl Scout headquarters. There will be a small fee.

Troop Progress Course

The course started on January 17th, but was postponed last week on account of the blizzard. It will meet this week as usual with Mrs.
Ballard of Newton as the trainer,
assisted by Miss Unsworth.

Troop News

Troop 1 and Troop 7 have issued a joint invitation to a Valentine tea to be held at 10 Hillside Avenue at 4.00 p. m. on February 6, 1935.

Troop 4

Games and classes for tenderfoot and signalling took up most of our meeting this week. During the latter part, we practised songs for the "Scouts Own" and Marian Brown was invested.

The troop committee, consisting of Mrs. Thomas Semonian, Mrs.
Herbert B. Kellogg, Mrs. Willis E.
Munroe, held a successful bridge party for the camping fund, at the home of Mrs. Munroe, 71 Melrose Street.—Theodora Hamson.

Troop 5

For the next few weeks our meetings will be held at the Russell
School instead of the Parmenter.
The troop enjoyed playing captain ball and circle tag, directed by Jean Mark and Kathryn Whitcomb, who are working for their athlete badge.
Emily Riess passed her second class signalling. Others worked on nature. Several girls went swimming at the Brookline tank last week. More are going February 8, to pass the requirements for the athlete badge.—Marion Ingebretson.

Troop 6

The Scouts of Troop 6 are making nightgowns for the Needlework Guild. However, in view of the fine snow, they found it necessary last Thursday to break loose and go for a good old-fashioned coasting party. To belong to the Needlework Guild, the troop has to make twenty-one articles, which are given to some charitable organization.—Louise Lester.

Troop 10

Games were played before the meeting. Afterwards we were divided into two groups. The first group wrote directions in code on slips of paper and laid a trail
starting from Junior High Center.
The second group followed the trail. They were led to Arlington Centre and back to the Junior High.
We ended the meeting by singing taps.—Helen Richardson.

Troop 9

Patrol 1 has charge of a food fair at Green's Market, Mass.
Avenue, Saturday, February 2. Try to come! After classes at our meeting, the girls got some candy to sell. Two prizes will be given to the girls who sell the most. In the last contest Thelma Rubner won. Girls, don't forget that Wednesday is citizenship class day.—
Grace Higgins.

Arlington Daughter Elected Chairman of Cambridge Library Bd.

Arlington people are interested in the fact that for the first time in its history the Cambridge Board of Library Trustees has a woman chairman. Mrs. Julia T. Boyle, of 1446 Cambridge street, was elected to that office last week.

Mrs. Boyle, who is the daughter of Mrs. Mary Shean of 58 Medford street, Arlington, is the wife of Dr.
Jeremiah J. Boyle. She had previously served as secretary of the board and is a woman with fine qualifications for the post she now assumes.

Junior High School West Notes

The meeting of the League of Junior High School Publications of eastern Massachusetts, which was to have been held last Friday afternoon at Wellesley College, and which was postponed on account of the omission of the school sessions, was held on Tuesday afternoon of this week, instead. The program was carried out as planned. Dr. Hawkes, Miss Mary F. Forrest, and eighteen members of the staff of the Junior West magazine, "The Menotomy Beacon", attended the meeting.

The basketball game scheduled with the Junior Center for last Friday was played on Monday of this week. The score was 16-15
in favor of the Center.

Warning cards were issued this week. These are the regular midterm notices to the parents of pupils who are failing for the first month of the marking period. It is hoped that additional effort will be made by these pupils to raise their marks so that they will not fail for the term.

Miss Beatrice Arrand, teacher of cooking, who was taken to the hospital on January 7th for an operation, will be out for several weeks longer, it is feared, although her condition is reported as favorable.
Miss Arrand's place is being taken by Miss Alice Turner.

—Mr. and Mrs. William H.
Keefe of 27 Davis Avenue are the parents of a baby daughter born at the Lawrence Memorial Hospital on Monday, January 28.

"Swift Sword" Plays To Standing-Room Only. Despite Conditions

According to report by the business manager, "Swift Sword", which was produced by the Friends of the Drama on Wednesday, Friday and Saturday of last week, was a gratifying success, in spite of adverse weather conditions.

On Wednesday evening occurred
the worst blizzard that this section has experienced in many years and yet about eighty people came out,
even though they knew the play
was to be repeated twice more.
Some of those who came in automobiles were not able to extricate their machines until the end of the week. By Friday the main thoroughfares were all ploughed out,
but since hardly a side street had been cleared, the proposition of postponement was seriously considered.

As result showed, however,
enough people to fill the hall to capacity, and more, would have been disappointed had the performance been called off. Saturday night again there was standing room only and several did stand all during the performance. Everyone who saw the play had to walk at least one long block to do so, and most walked all the way from their homes.

Among those from out of town
who witnessed the last performance
Saturday night were Mr. and Mrs.
Parker Webb of East Milton, Mrs.
and Barbara Drown and Mr. and Mrs. Selwyn Parker of Swampscott,
Mr. and Mrs. James Nowell and Miss Katherine, and Mrs. Dunbar Carpenter of Winchester; John Cary of Washington, D. C.; Mrs. Daisy and Miss Elizabeth Hoxie of Belmont;
Mr. and Mrs. Raymond Holdsworth and party of Winchester; John and Miss June Yale of Northampton;
Miss Marjorie McCann of Middlebury, Vermont; Mr. and Mrs. Sears Walker of Cambridge.

Miss Le Master Begins Work at Congregational

Miss Thelma Le Master of Newton has begun her work as Director of Religious Education in the Orthodox Congregational Church.
She succeeds Miss Helen E. Cunningham, recently married. Miss Le Master is a graduate of Andover-Newton Seminary and has been Young People's worker at the Wellesley Hills Congregational Church
for the past two and a half years.
She has also been a special Social Service worker at Newton Hospital.

Marcus Gray President Patrons of Husbandry

The Metropolitan Past Masters
Patrons of Husbandry, held its January meeting and installation of officers in Ye Lantern on Tuesday evening.

Mrs. Katherine B. MacCarron of Melrose was the installing officer and Mrs. Marcus Gray of Arlington
the marshal.

The officers installed were Marcus J. Gray of Arlington as president, and Helen Travers of Somerville, vice-president.

Charles M. Gardner, high priest of Demeter of the National Grange was the guest of honor.

The meeting was attended by Grangers from all parts of metropolitan Boston.

St. Agnes Parish Bridge Whist This Afternoon

A bridge and whist party will be held this afternoon in St. Agnes school hall at two-thirty o'clock.
This party is being sponsored by the committee in charge of the parish reunion, and the hostesses of the afternoon are: Mrs. Harold J.
Rogers, Mrs. A. F. Crowley, Mrs.
Catherine Keaney, Mrs. C. M.

SPORTS LOCALS RETAIN LEAGUE TOP IN BITTERLY FOUGHT TIE

Bill Collins Sinks Long One to Knot Count with Newton at 3-3 in Last Few Minutes.

The Arlington High Hockey team retained its hold on first place by battling to a 3 to 3 tie with a powerful Newton team at the Boston Arena last Friday. The game was bitterly fought all the way, Bill Collins managing to send a sizzling drive past the goalie to tie the game with just three minutes of play remaining.

Arlington managed to score twice in the first period, three minutes after it opened. After feeling each other's strength, both teams began in earnest. Newton made a drive down the ice but failed to score. Joe Gardella picked up the puck, skated down the ice and let the rubber disc drive at Woodward, the goalie. The latter stopped the shot, but "Red" Preston got the puck on the rebound and drove it into the cage before the goalie could get set.

Newton evened things up four minutes later when Daniels took a pass from Miner in front of the net and banged the puck in. The tie lasted about three minutes, when Preston again scored, this time with an assist by Chipman. The period ended with Arlington leading by the score of 2 to 1.

Newton tied the score after five minutes of the second period had elapsed. Dennison sent a hard shot at Sakoiian, who stopped the puck, but could not clear it to the side. McLeod gathered up the puck and slithered it in to tie the score. A little more than a minute later, Dennison slipped a nice pass to Gus Castoldi who skated in on Sakoiian and lined the puck in the strings to put Newton in the lead.

Newton started the third period with offensive maneuvers, but finally settled down to play a defensive game. Arlington tried futilely for the next six minutes to penetrate the Newton defense, but failed. Finally with but three minutes of play remaining, and with an Arlington and a Newton player in the penalty box, Collins skated up the ice and let drive from the blue line with such deadly accuracy that the goalie was unable to cope with it. The final three minutes was rough and tough, but no scoring resulted.

In this game, Joe Gardella got the questionable title of "bad" man of the league. He has served 19 1/2 minutes in the penalty box so far this season.

The line-up: ARLINGTON: Keefe (Chipman), lw rw, Blodgett (MacLeod) Norberg (Gardella), c c, Daniels (Butterfield) Mee (Preston), rw

Cantabs Humbled By A. H. S. Five

A vastly improved Arlington High basketball team defeated a highly-touted Cambridge Latin five, 25-16, in the High School auditorium last Tuesday afternoon. The Arlington team held the Cantabs to five points up to the final quarter, in which period the visitors garnered eleven.

Captain Charlie Lowder scored a foul shot twenty seconds after the period opened, but it was two minutes before Herb Siders sunk a floor basket. "Bibber" Holway succeeded in caging two foul shots to keep Arlington going and was followed by Earl Jones with a long shot. At this point, Brown put Cambridge Latin in the scoring column by sinking a floor basket. The period ended with Arlington leading, 7-2.

The second period saw Arlington playing a more or less defensive game, limiting the Cantabrigians to but one point, a foul shot by Gallagher. Shields scored 2 points, Jones one point, and Charlie Lowder 2 points in this canto. The score at the half stood 12-3 with Arlington leading.

In the third period, Arlington scored eight points, holding Cambridge Latin to two points. Jones started by sinking a basket after two minutes of scrimmage. Stankunas netted two points for the visitors right after Billy Shields sent a looping, one-handed, overhead shot into the basket. Earl Jones again sent a high looping shot swishing into the strings. Herb Siders closed the period by taking a pass from Shields and sending a push-shot into the basket. The score at the period was 20-5.

In the final canto, Cambridge Latin found the range to the tune of eleven points, while Arlington took things easy and scored only five. Shields started the period by garnering two points, to be followed by a free shot. Kishkis scored a foul shot and a basket. Gallagher scored two floor baskets. Holway scored two points for Arlington, but Kishkis came back to score two baskets.

The Arlington Seconds easily defeated the Cantab Seconds, 35-11, in the preliminary game. The Arlington Cubs attack clicked perfectly, permitting them to score almost at will.

Woburn Wins

The Arlington High basketball team suffered a 15-12 defeat at the hands of Woburn High at Woburn last Friday in a game slowed up by the inability of the official to move fast enough to keep up with the play. The game was closely contested, neither team enjoying more than a five point lead at any stage of the game.

The scoring was started by "Bibber" Holway who scored a foul shot. He immediately followed it up with a floor basket. Leading by three points, Arlington began to feel the results of playing on such a long floor. Sam West sunk a foul shot for Woburn to be followed by O'Connor caging a floor basket as the period closed. The score at the end of the first period was tied at three all.

Earl Jones put Arlington ahead by sinking a long shot from the floor. This lead was not held long, as Patterson tied the score with a looping one-handed shot into the basket. Just as the period came to a close, Woburn took the lead by caging another floor basket. The score at the half was 7-5 with Arlington at the tail end of the score. During that half, six penalties were inflicted upon the Red and Gray team, while only one was meted out to the Woburn team.

The second half opened with "Lefty" O'Brien furthering Woburn's lead by sinking a shot from the foul line. O'Connor helped the Woburn cause by sinking a basket. Bart Madden kept Arlington in the running by scoring a foul shot. "Curly" Shields sunk a long shot to close the gap somewhat. The period ended with Patterson looping a high one into the basket. The score, Woburn 13, Arlington 8.

In the final period, Woburn scored but two points, a basket by O'Connor, while Arlington scored four, a basket and two foul shots by Pat O'Brien.

In the preliminary game, the Woburn Seconds defeated the Arlington Seconds, 9-7 in a dull and uninteresting game.

Senior High School Notes

Subscriptions for the 1935 Year Book are being collected by the Year Book secretaries in each senior home room. It is hoped that all subscriptions may be had by today. Two dollars is requisite for the order, and one dollar will be paid when the book is received. The secretaries are as follows: John Buckley, Room 10; William Does, Room 12; Curtis Ganong, Room 13; Milton Matthews, Room 14; Veto Neviackas, Room 15a; Francis Smith, Room 15b and John Wallwork, Room 16. Any juniors or sophomores desiring the year book may sign with Howard Atwood in Room 17.

Boys' and Girls' Choral Speaking Club meetings were omitted this week, as Mrs. Helen F. Matthews was busy preparing for the production of "The Country Cousin" which is being presented this evening at the Town Hall. This play, written by Booth Tarkington and Julian Street, is surely worth seeing, and should be well attended by both students and adults.

A daughter was born on January 21 at the Walnut Street Hospital to Mr. and Mrs. David Francis O'Keefe of 32 Coleman Road.

LEAGUE LEADING BUNKER HILL 5 WILL PLAY A. A. A.

The Arlington Athletic Association will bring to Arlington one of the outstanding basketball teams of Greater Boston on next Wednesday night at the Junior High East. The Bunker Hill K. of C. will be the attraction and at present are holding down the top berth in the Greater Boston League.

The A. A. has a record of 10 wins out of 12 games so far this season and will be out to pin a defeat on the visitors. The K. of C. will have in its lineup Johnny Crowley of the West End House and Boys Club fame, Neal Leonard of the Pere Marquette, Gleason and McLaughlin of the old Pittons and Bunny Burns, the sensational (one hand) guard.

Charlie Crocco will depend on his same squad to bring about a victory with Bob Friery and Eddie Galucci holding down the forward points, Johnny Driscoll at Center, Joe Donahue and George Lowder at the Guard posts. Brud Clarke and Bartlett will relieve the guards and forwards respectively.

Lefty Lowder, Arlington High Coach, will do all of the officiating for the balance of the year. His work last year was exceptionally good during the local league games.

The Arlington Cardinals will play at 7:30 p. m. while two Arlington rivals will hold forth at the gong of 8 p. m.

The Dionne Quintuplets

The Dionne quintuplets are right in the news now because the Boston Sunday Post sent a staff representative to live with them in their own home town. He is telling in the Sunday Post all the fascinating details of their daily life, the diet that has made them plump and joyful with health, the exercises that are making them "raring" to creep-information that is very helpful to all mothers as well as delightfully interesting reading.

The Sunday Post has also just started an authentic life story of Dr. F. E. Townsend, founder of the Townsend Pension Plan, and one of the most talked of men in America today. Also, starting next Sunday, the Sunday Post offers a series of passionate love letters by famous men and women who never expected these epistles would see the light of day and, therefore, wrote from their hearts.

Maureen is the name which Mr. and Mrs. Joseph V. Grady of 129 Warren Street have given the daughter which was born to them at Symmes Arlington Hospital on January 22.

WE HEARD

Growing out of that piece about the Arlington-Belmont Watertown-Waltham rivalry a few weeks ago the eminent Watertown Sun last Thursday went off the track and said Belmont is stepping out of its class in wanting to meet Arlington on Turkey Day instead of Watertown. It seems Watertown don't do too bad against Waltham and taking Fred Ostergren's word, and he ought to know, Arlington's hardest game is Belmont. If this town went in for football like the Spy Ponders do I'd like to bet, not too much, that the red-and-blue would hold their own each Thanksgiving... The Belmont High quintet is the only undefeated outfit around greater Boston... From what we get in the mail and from people, the town folks are all for bleachers, and the fence around Concord Avenue playground. If you consider it this way a few years from now the paid admission will take care of the entire cost. Why not use the ERA boys, they want the work, and can use the money, and the town wants and can use the bleachers and the fence... Monday night Joe Ecker lead us around the Cocoonet Grove and you got to hand it to Joe he's doing O. K. Jerry Johnson is high scorer of the hoopmen with 76 games up to yesterday's battle and Joe Massett is second, scoring 70 Kiki Abbott is high man for the second team, scoring 32 points... The storm caused the postponement of the girls' basketball game with Cambridge Latin last Friday, tomorrow they tackle Winchester... One of the most capable student managers the high school has had for many a day is Dick Arnold. Dick get it all and more too... Coach Jane Hill is very anxious to take Winchester... Taking a picture of the high school basketball players, Mel Wenner the coach refused to be included. Pretty modest I think... Something I never knew till yesterday, the high school officials or maybe its the playground committee charges $2.50 for the use of the high school gym to boys wanting to use it. The high school team better look out they might have to start paying for the use of it... Its snowshoes, skis and toboggans for the winter fun... I thought a golf club closed up tight for the winter. Not the Belmont Spring, the members are still at it, but its not golf its shooting... It is interesting to note how quick fans rush to the rescue of the hockey champs of a few years past. One person wrote in all members of this unit were still making good and set the examples: Ford and Ecker, varsity football and hockey at Harvard, Bob Jones, varsity football at Harvard, Cliff Moery, freshman goalie at Harvard, Jim Jameson first string forward at Exeter, Jackie Devlin varsity forward at Dartmouth, Tony DeNatali freshman football and hockey at Boston College, and Win Taft, freshman football at Dartmouth last year. Folks still admire that team, and as the correspondent said will give us a chance to get back at those who say we played Ford and Ecker up to much... Our entire force and neighbors are busily engaged in a battle to the finish in ping-pong.

"SWEET ADELIN" COMES TO THE UNIVERSITY
 "Sweet Adeline", the sensational musical comedy hit by Jerome Kern and Oscar Hammerstein II, that set all New York whistling, now comes to the screen as the latest of the gigantic musical specials, and is scheduled as the feature attraction at the University Theatre for four days starting Sunday. Irene Dunne, favorite singing star of both stage and screen, will appear in the stellar role, supported by an exceptionally talented cast of comedy and dramatic players. The picture is laid in the glamorous Broadway theatrical district; a fashionable trying place of young bloods and their lady loves on the outskirts of the city and in a picturesque Hoboken beer garden.

Richard Dix comes back to the type of picture that won him fame, in the companion picture, "West of the Pecos", from the popular novel by Zane Gray. Like "Cimarron", the setting is in the Southwest, with the time period slightly before the Oklahoma land rush. Martha Sleeper plays the leading feminine role. Paul Muni, one of the greatest actors on stage or screen, comes Thursday in "Bordertown", which is said to be the most powerful drama in which he has ever appeared. The picture, suggested by Carroll Graham's novel, is a stark, realistic picture of the colorful life in a town on the American border, with its night clubs and gambling resorts frequented by American millionaires and bored society women seeking diversion. In this atmosphere, Paul Muni, in the role of a foreign youth, rises to riches and power as the proprietor of a fashionable night club and gambling hall. Bette Davis, in the leading feminine role, is said to surpass even her splendid performance in "Of Human Bondage".

Conrad Nagel, for many years a leading film favorite, returns to the screen in one of the principal roles in "One Hour Late", the companion feature. Nagel supports Joe Morrison, radio tenor, and Helen Twelvemore.

Popular demand has elected Myrna Loy and William Powell as the ideal married couple of the screen.

Box-office returns have proven they are the "best sellers" of man-and-wife teams in pictures, and they now repeat their two previous appearances in their third co-starring vehicle, the Metro-Goldwyn-Mayer production of "Evelyn Prentice", now at the Capitol Theatre.

First, there was the melodramatic success, "Manhattan Melodrama". It portrayed Miss Loy as a dutiful, thoughtful wife and Powell as her politically ambitious husband who rose to great public office.

Their success in this picture led to a second one, "The Thin Man", with Miss Loy and Powell again as husband and wife.

In it Powell and Miss Loy presented characterizations completely contrasted to their first appearance together. "The Thin Man" brought them back as a pleasure-loving couple, Powell frankly admitting he had married for money and Miss Loy revealing in the playboy antics of her spouse and aiding him in his hilarious detective adventures.

And now, in their third appearance as a team, they appear as husband and wife in "Evelyn Prentice". Powell again is seen in the role of a lawyer, a role in which he excels, and Miss Loy is his erring wife who becomes involved in a murder scandal.

THEY'RE SCREEN'S MOST POPULAR MARRIED COUPLE

Members of the Woman's Club are showing their interest in the community symphony concert to be given Sunday at 4 o'clock, in the Robbins Memorial Town Hall.

In spite of the extremely difficult conditions for traveling on Thursday evening of last week, 206 members and friends of the Woman's Club attended the Stanley High dinner in the Town Hall.

Eight members of the Woman's Club attended the Press and Publicity Conference at the University Club in Boston last Friday: Miss Grace Parker, who is President of the State Department of Press and Publicity; Mrs. Harold B. Wood, Mrs. Robert B. Parmenter, Mrs. J. Herbert Mead, Mrs. Laurence Eaton, Mrs. Lucinda M. Higgins, Mrs. Helen C. Davis, and Mrs. Arthur E. Gilmore. The last three are members of the Press and Printing Committee of the Arlington Club. Rev. John Nicol Mark, minister of the First Parish Unitarian Church, was one of the morning speakers. He gave a very fine talk on "What a Woman's Club Does for a Community".

Mrs. W. C. Drouet, Mrs. Norman Griffin and Miss Katherine Hart will serve in the above capacity next Thursday.

A delicious tea was served by Mrs. Murphy at the close of the afternoon. As four members discovered that they had been neighbors years ago in Somerville, the time spent together was termed "Old Home Hour".

The state meeting for the Department of International Relations is to be held at the Hotel Westminister at 12.30 Friday, February 8. The luncheon will be followed by two addresses, "What Has the Munitions Investigation Revealed?" Mrs. James W. Morrison; "Highlights of Today's World Picture," Lewis Rex Miller, one of the editors Christian Science Monitor.

Ladies Lodge, S. of I.
 Next Thursday evening at 8:15, at the Sons of Italy Hall, formerly Knights of Columbus Hall, 9 Mystic street, Arlington, the Arlington Ladies' Lodge of the Sons of Italy are going to have another Charity Beano Party. There are many beautiful prizes to be awarded.

The Committee in charge are: Mrs. Mary Vellone and Mrs. N. Lupo, chairladies; Miss Victoria De Cane, Miss Hortense D'Auria, Miss Ida Guarente and the Misses Dente.

MENOTONY CHAPTER D. A. R.
 Menotomy Chapter, D. A. R., will meet next Friday in Wyman's English Tavern at two-thirty in the afternoon. Mrs. William H. Pouch of New York, National Committee Chairman of the D. A. R., will be guest speaker and will illustrate her talk on approved schools with motion pictures.

Members are informed that they may invite as many guests as they wish. Mrs. Mortimer H. Wells, chairman of the ways and means committee, will conduct a food sale at this meeting.

BEETHOVEN'S FIFTH

Beethoven's Fifth Symphony, which will be played by the Arlington Symphony Orchestra, Sunday afternoon at four o'clock, was studied by the Woman's Club music appreciation class Wednesday morning. Leonard Wood, conductor of the orchestra gave the explanation as the class listened to Victor records made by the London Symphony Orchestra with Mr. Koussevitzky as conductor. The life and works of Handel were also discussed by Mr. Wood.

Varia Study Club

The Varia Club held a hilarious meeting last Monday night at the home of Mrs. Louise Ladd. Members came in costume, which added to the evening's fun. After a short business meeting the evening was spent playing various games and prizes were given the winners at beano. Hot dogs and coffee were served by the hostess assisted by the hospitality committee.

"Wrong Numbers", a one-act comedy of pickpockets, will be presented Mother's Night, Monday evening, at the Center Junior High School at 8 p. m. by the Junior Women's Club. The cast, Ethel Chipman, Ruth Waddell, and Elise Hauser, under the coaching of Betty Hendrich, promise a highly entertaining evening. Mrs. Charles C. Willson, and Mrs. A. Chesley York, Chairman and Vice-Chairman of the Junior Membership of the State Federation of Women's Clubs are to be judges for this anniversary play which is being given in competition with several other Junior Women's Clubs throughout the state.

A special invitation is extended to the mothers of the members to attend this meeting and see what the Junior Women's Club is doing. Audrey Lester and Phyllis Edwards assisted at the piano by Phyllis Lamothie, will sing a duet especially for them.

POWERS, MERRITT, WOOD WILL FEATURE CLARE CLASS GUEST NIGHT

The Clare Class guest night will be held in the chapel of the First Baptist Church, Monday, at eight o'clock. Members may bring one guest. Mrs. H. L. Evans has planned a very fine program consisting of Miss Susan Powers, reader; Miss Edna Merritt, contralto; Leonard Wood, violinist; Mrs. R. C. Hamilton is chairman of refreshment committee.

JUNIOR HIGH CENTER P. T. A.

The several speakers offered valuable advice in helping parents select the proper course for their children to take at the meeting of the Junior High Center P. T. A. Wednesday night. John Matthews spoke generally on the subject of the junior high school; Miss Bennett spoke on Latin, which pupils she would advise to take it, how long, and why. Mr. John Degnan explained the study of science, its enriching the lives of the pupils, and its commercial value. Mr. Raymond Morrill, sub-master of the Arlington High School, explained the course of study in the high school, and Mr. Edward Leonard, sub-master of Medford High School, told of the college entrance requirements.

MRS. LAURA ANN FAIRBANKS

The funeral of Mrs. Laura Ann (Coolidge) Fairbanks, who was a relative of the late President Calvin Coolidge, and who passed away on Monday at the home of her daughter, Mrs. Helen F. Given of 7 Radcliff Road at the age of 96, took place Wednesday afternoon, services being held in the funeral home of David Fudge & Son in Somerville. The services were conducted by Rev. David Fraser, pastor of the West Somerville Congregational Church, and burial was in Forest Hills Cemetery. Besides her daughter she is survived by two grandchildren and a great-grandson.

FRANK ALLEN BURGESS

Frank Allen Burgess for twenty years treasurer of Batchelder, Snyder, Dorr & Doe Co., meat packers, of Boston, passed away at his home, 32 Orris Road, last Tuesday. He was eighty years old last November, and for the past fifty years had been connected with the firm, and even up to the time of his illness two months ago he was still actively engaged in this work.

His parents were Silas and Mercy (Batter) Burgess of Providence, Rhode Island, in which city he was born. He was a cousin of the late Senator Nelson W. Aldrich of Providence and Washington, a second cousin to Mrs. John D. Rockefeller, Jr.

For the past thirteen years Mr. Burgess with his wife, Mrs. Cora Sias Burgess and one daughter, Hazel, has lived in Arlington coming from Cambridge where they resided eleven years.

Services were held from the late home Thursday at 2.30. Rev. Henry G. Budd, Jr., pastor of the Calvary Methodist Episcopal Church officiated. The deceased bury and interment will take place in the family lot in Ossipee, N. H. was placed in the vault at Amesbury.

MRS. HIRAM A. DENNISON

Funeral services for Mrs. Carrie (Smith) Dennison who passed away last Thursday, were held Sunday afternoon at the home of her daughter, Mrs. Fred E. Pickering, 176 Medford street, and were conducted by Rev. Clarence W. Dunham, pastor of the Pilgrim Congregational Church of Dorchester. Burial was in North Cemetery, Uphams Corner.

Mrs. Dennison, who was the widow of Hiram A. Dennison, was born in New York on June 20, 1858, the daughter of John and Mary Smith. She formerly lived in Somerville but has made her home here for the past six years.

She is survived by a son, Francis H. Dennison of Norfolk Downs and two daughters, Mrs. Nettie McCarthy of Dorchester and Mrs. Anna Pickering of Arlington.

CHARLES ALBERT LONGMERE

Charles Albert Longmere of 51 Teel Street, husband of Janet McArthur Longmere, died at the Cambridge Hospital on Monday at the age of forty-seven. He was born in Hillsburn, Nova Scotia, the son of Howard D. and Edith Annie Goldsmith Longmere.

Services were held at the A. E. Long Memorial Chapel, 4 Beech Street, North Cambridge yesterday at 2.30. Rev. Gordon E. Bigelow of the Trinity Baptist Church officiated. Interment was at Cambridge Cemetery.

ALDEN L. HATCH

His many friends were shocked to learn of the sudden death of Alden L. Hatch at Symmes Arlington Hospital last Tuesday. Funeral services were held this morning at eleven o'clock in the Marshall Chapel in Lexington and burial was in that town. Rev. Grady D. Feagan, pastor of the First Baptist Church, conducted the services.

Mr. Hatch, who was living at 252 Spring street at the time of his death, was born in Portsmouth, New Hampshire, April 24, 1904, the son of Charles P. and Almira N. L. Hatch, who have made their home on Linden street for many years. He was graduated from Arlington High School in 1922 and from the Bentley School of Accounting in 1924. His wife, the former Marion Diehl, was also a graduate of Arlington High School.

Besides his wife, three daughters, and his parents, he is survived by three brothers, Walter P. and J. Boyd of Arlington, and Alfred E. Hatch, who was on the way to Columbia, South America, at the time of his brother's death. He had just accepted a position with the United Fruit Company, and sailed a week ago tonight.

Besides his wife and his parents he is survived by three brothers, Walter P. and J. Boyd of Arlington, and Alfred E. Hatch, who was on the way to Columbia, South America, at the time of his brother's death. He had just accepted a position with the United Fruit Company, and sailed a week ago tonight.

MISS MARY EMMA DEANE

Miss Mary Emma Deane of 103 Westminister Avenue, who has lived in Arlington for nearly fifty years, passed away at her home last Friday. Funeral services were held at the Hartwell Chapel, 792 Massachusetts Avenue, Sunday afternoon with Rev. Ralph F. Palmer of the Heights Baptist Church officiating. Burial was in Mt. Pleasant Cemetery.

Miss Deane was born in West Newton seventy-six years ago, the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Harrison G. O. Deane. She had been a teacher in the Boston schools for more than fifty years.

In Memoriam

One more dear soul has slipped away
 Out of all pain and care.
 Gone to a better land by far,
 To meet her loved ones there.

No sweeter person ever lived—
 To breathe God's wonderful air;
 Where birds and flowers, love and song
 All helped her task to bear.

Her gracious smile, her cheerful word
 Will ever linger here
 With friends who helped and loved her,
 Kept watch as death drew near.

One more dear soul will join with Him,
 And with that heavenly band
 Will pass beyond the shining gate
 To take her Saviour's hand.

Her journey, long, is ended now.
 Her work on earth complete.
 What blessed sanctuary there
 At Jesus' blessed feet.
 Margaret E. Prent.

Rainbow Girls Install Officers

Before an audience of friends and parents which filled the Masonic Apartments on Saturday evening, Belmont Assembly No. 31 Order of the Rainbow for Girls, proceeded to install the corps of officers elected and appointed at the meeting of January 12.

At the early meeting held in the afternoon the usual routine business was disposed of, after which supper was served in the banquet room by the Rainbow mothers under the direction of Mrs. Joseph W. Holmes, mother of the Worthy Advisor elect. A large number of guests were present, including Mrs. Charlotte McDonald, W. M. Belmont Eastern Star; Mr. Eugene K. Baker, W. P. Belmont Eastern Star; Mr. James E. Woods, M. Belmont Lodge; Dad, Howard Stockwell, Belmont De Molay; Rev. Richard H. Bennett, pastor Payson Park Congregational Church; Stanford B. Comery, head master Belmont High School; Mrs. Elizabeth Allis, Mother Advisor, Arlington Assembly No. 36; Miss Editha Allis, W. A. Arlington Assembly No. 36; Miss Doris Johnson, P. W. A. Arlington Assembly; Mrs. Phyllis Lees Hubbell, Miss Dorothy Smith; Miss Alice Brigham; Miss Leona Schroder; Miss Lillian Hollis; Miss Jean Betts, all Past Worthy Advisors of Belmont Assembly; Mrs. Elsie Baker; Mrs. Woods; Mrs. Stockwell; Mrs. Bennett and Mrs. Comery.

The Assembly reconvened for installation of officers at 7.30 o'clock, under direction of Miss Dora Williamson, W. A. who read her report on "What Rainbow has meant to me". Following this she read the speech of presentation which was made at the meeting of January 12, when the illuminated signet of the Order of Rainbow was presented. Lights were dimmed and the colors of the signet were flashed on as each color was explained giving its significance in Rainbow.

Officers were retired under the direction of the drill leader, Miss Catherine Kidd. The installing officers were then escorted to the assembly room by the drill leader and introduced. Miss Dora Williamson, P. W. A., as installing officer. Miss Esther McLennan, installing marshal; Miss Doris Johnson installing chaplain; Miss Editha Allis, installing recorder, Miss Helen Henry, installing soloist.

The following officers were then installed: Worthy Advisor, Winifred Holmes; Worthy Associate Advisor, Verna Woolfrey; Charity, Jean Gardner; Hope, Helen Groner; Faith, Catherine Kidd; Recorder, Ruth Thompson; Treasurer, Ethel Pierpont; Chaplain, Barbara Fisher; Drill Leader, Phyllis MacDonald; Love, Phyllis Crafts; Religion, Barbara Howe; Nature, Ruth Foregren; Immortality, Anna Jevaskian; Fidelity, Constance Arnold; Patriotism, Helen Connell;

CAVIL

Carping criticism — captious fault-finding — frivolous objections — have kept the employees in the office of the Board of Public Works almost as busy as the hundreds laboring in the biting cold of the snow-laden streets during the past ten days. The following are some of the outcries noted:

1—Massachusetts avenue got more than it absolutely needed. More streets should have been opened up instead of "gilding the lily".

2—No sooner did private enterprise open outlets for private motor cars than the snow plows filled them up, costing Arlington citizens trouble and money.

3—The Public Works Department was caught napping. Constant running of blade plows through all possible streets would have kept them open.

4—The sidewalks should have been kept clear. It is dangerous for pedestrians to be forced into the streets.

The Advocate holds no brief for the Board of Public Works. The editor gets just as angry as anyone else when his driveway is plowed-in three or four times, but we do like to see some show of justice.

Ask Arlington's merchants, a big tax-paying class, whether or not they appreciated the work done on Massachusetts avenue. Ask them how business fared, compared to Cambridge, Somerville and Boston. Remember the impossible conditions as they existed on Massachusetts avenue in Cambridge and decide whether or not Arlington's main thoroughfare should or should not receive full measure of attention. Also bear in mind that the Boston Elevated Company plows a good part of the width of Massachusetts avenue. In fact, the Elevated has done almost all the work that has been done on the avenue in the neighboring city.

It is annoying to find one's carefully shoveled driveway blocked at the mouth by the passage of a snow plow, but as far as we know there is no way of avoiding that if the work of clearing the side streets is to continue at all. It has been suggested that the town ought to clear blocked driveways by hand, and the same people who make the suggestion will be kicking at the high tax rate next summer. Snow removal, particularly by hand, costs a pile of money. As it was there were as many as seven hundred men out with shovels, which the town had to supply (not only its own employees but to the five or six hundred E. R. A. workers as well). The town bought about three hundred additional snow shovels, only to have a good part of them lost, or as was suspected, sold by greedy workers to culpable citizens.

One local man thought he had stumbled upon salvation at the height of the storm Wednesday night. He saw a huge truck, pushing a blade plow, turn from Massachusetts avenue into his own street. He followed quite easily for a time, but soon began to lose ground rapidly. Finally he was stuck. No sooner had the plow passed a point when the snow drifted in almost as deep as before.

The plow was also in grave difficulty. It had come upon an abandoned car which could not be passed; so the driver tried to back back to the Avenue, only to be stopped by the fellow who had followed him in. The story illustrates just one or two reasons why the blade plows could not keep up with the storm.

The town's three tractor plows were out as soon as it was apparent that the blades were defeated. But by Thursday at midnight two of them had broken down under the terrific weight of the packed snow and the third had more than it could do plowing a lacework over the town to safeguard against possible fires.

The Board of Public Works immediately tried to buy more tractors but its members were threatened with arrest by the state accounting department if they dared overdraw the appropriation for snow removal. Finally the two disabled tractors were replaced with rentals, on which it was necessary to pay a terrific fee, until the town-owned pair was again able to take to the road.

To have pedestrians walking in the street is indeed dangerous, but there again, what was to be done. One year, the town had four sidewalk tractor plows, on which a rental of $2100 was paid. The $2100 was to go toward the ultimate purchase price. But in town meeting that March the members refused to appropriate the $4,900 which was necessary to complete the purchase; so the four tractors and the $2,100 went by the board. It was argued that the sidewalk tractors did much damage and that horses could do the work better and provide jobs for more men. The members of the Board of Public Works, present and ex, have been fighting about those horses ever since.

But there was no doubt about the futility of one-horse power Wednesday night. After all, flesh and blood can not stand impossible conditions. It was not very long before all the horses were exhausted and had to be led back to the stables.

It is our opinion, therefore, that the Board of Public Works, the Street Department, Superintendent O'Brien and all the men under him have come out of the worst storm which Arlington has seen for a generation with great credit. All this cavil is just what the word implies — unwarranted criticism.

SHOWER FOR MISS WOODS

Miss Eunice Woods, an employee at the Menotomy Pharmacy, who is to become the bride of Edward Nicoll of Montague Street in the near future, was given a surprise shower at the Bitter homestead on Fessenden Road, last Thursday evening. The house was attractively decorated with pink streamers. In the center of the living room was an umbrella of crepe paper rose petals on which artificial rain descended. From the umbrella were suspended paper hearts, on each of which was a number. As Miss Woods read the number on each heart, some friend who had a corresponding number on a larger heart, read a verse which told the bride-to-be where to look for a hidden gift. The novel idea was planned by Mrs. George P. Wilson, and caused much merriment as Miss Woods discovered the many beautiful and useful tokens of regard. Refreshments were served at the close of an unusually pleasant evening.

Here and There

Harvard Square subway station was more than usually crowded last Thursday night during the rush hour when four or five (stories conflict) cars came through, all marked North Cambridge. In the meantime the platform was jammed to the walls with seething Arlingtonians.

Finally, after a long lull, another car came down the ramp with welcome thunder. But the thunder came from the crowd when people saw that again they were confronted with "North Cambridge". A small mob of bold spirits surged out onto the tracks and refused to move until the cars designation had been changed to "Arlington Heights—Limited" and it had been re-routed. Then came the triumphant ride home.

It seems that tactics like the above are what it takes to move the United States Senate, which refused Tuesday to pass adherence to the World Court, in spite of the fact that the move was urged from such diverse sources as the President of the United States, the American Federation of Labor and the Women's Clubs—not to mention the fact that adherence was written into the 1932 platforms of both major parties. Senator Walsh of Massachusetts was one of those who failed to sustain the leader of his party.

Haig Abdlan, the Board of Public Works clerk mentioned elsewhere in this column, did nothing but record complaints for three days, and still his disposition failed to sour. One lady on Reservoir road (look it up on the town map) called and said her small children would suffer from lack of food if something wasn't done, because she herself could not get out and the children were all too small. Knowing that the plow could not get in that night Mr. Abdlan personally delivered two quarts of milk, after his work for the day at Town Hall was over.

An interested member of the Friends of the Drama tried to get Maple and Academy streets plowed out in time to make the club house accessible for the performance last Friday night. He was told by the street department that all three tractor plows were at the moment laid up for repairs, but the department would do the best it could.

The speaker was as good as his word. One of the plows did come roaring and clanking up Academy street right in the middle of the tensely dramatic last act. If the driver had come an hour or so earlier his help would have been appreciated during the simulated electrical storm of the first act. Plowing snow during a thunder shower might have been just the right touch.

Two boys were born in Arlington on January 23. One was the son of Russell Winfield McKinley and the other was presented to Leland Garfield McConchie. January 23 was a big day for the ex-presidents.

A clerk by the name of Adams in the office of the Board of Public Works was receiving complaints over the telephone the other day when one sputtering party demanded to know to whom he was talking. "Adams", replied the clerk. "Well, Mr. Adams," shouted the sputterer, "you can consider yourself not re-elected."

The Boston Globe very kindly announced that "Swift Sword", a Friends of the Drama production, was being repeated in the club house last Friday and Saturday evenings. In doing so the writer called the play "a three-act comedy". If "Swift Sword" was the reporter's idea of comedy, we can only assume that he must habitually take the misfortunes of life very philosophically, indeed.

The audacious Advocate dares a sensational heading on page one this week. In case you have not noticed it, it reads: "Speaker Will Take Woman's Club Members On 'The Road Back Home'."

During the period of dense fog which existed in the editorial department of the Advocate last week because of the fact that the editor was in the throes of producing a play, we published the error that Mrs. Abbie E. Dupee had just celebrated her 102nd birthday.

March 27th is the date of Mrs. Dupee's birth. The fact that one of the Boston papers first made the mistake does not dispell the fox.

SOPHISTICATED ONLOOKER.

Fifty Years Ago This Week

Scarlet fever is prevalent in town, but most of the cases have proved light.

The sessions of Cotting High School have been interrupted again this week because of inability to make the building comfortable with the new heating apparatus. There seems to have been a large outlay to very little purpose.

While waiting at J. H. Russell's grocery a horse attached to a pung used for delivering yeast gradually worked around to Water street, and finding he was free, cut and ran for all he was worth, on the way knocking down Miss Josie Whitaker who fortunately escaped serious injury. The horse was not captured until he stopped at his own accord at the Fitchburg depot in Boston.

We regret to see the effort now being made by the leading Grand Army Posts of this State to legalize lotteries in aid of their charity funds. We say again that the gigantic crime at which our laws against lotteries struck with crushing force, had grown from such beginnings as this one, ostensibly in the interests of charity or the public needs. The whole scheme strikes us as being on a par with that piece of blatant demagoguery—eight dollars a month pension for everyone who served in the Union Army for not less than sixty days—which today stands in the way of those deserving veterans who served at the expense of limb or health.

Twenty-five Years Ago This Week

A second son was born to Dr. and Mrs. Charles F. Atwood, January 22, at their home, 687 Massachusetts avenue. Mr. and Mrs. Alton F. Tupper of 44 Gray street are also receiving congratulations on the advent of a daughter, born to the couple on Thursday, January 20. On January 24 a daughter was born to Mr. and Mrs. Harold L. Frost. The little lady has been named Alice Locke.

We don't remember having printed or reported the annual meeting of the Sunday School or society of the First Baptist Church. Such matters should be forwarded to the Advocate by clerk or secretary. Then not only will they be gladly inserted, but are quite likely to be printed with some reasonable degree of accuracy.

Arlington High triumphed over Winchester in one of the hardest-fought hockey games of the season at Winchester Monday, 4 to 3. It required a five-minute overtime period to decide the winner but Arlington was equal to the occasion. Favorable goals were made by Hutchinson 2, Scannell, Kelley.

The high cost of living is one of the absorbing topics of the day. Prices for food products of every sort, but especially meat, have been steadily advancing until a general protest has found voice in public meetings and action along the line of abstinence from use of meat by thousands of people.

Mr. Harold L. Frost of Arlington, recently nominated to succeed Samuel E. Damon of Lancaster as a trustee of the Massachusetts Agricultural College, was liberally quoted in a long article in the Sunday Globe under the heading, "Tree Destroying Insects". It had to do largely with the terrible leopard moth.

The gentlemen friends of the Friday Social Club were in charge of the recent social and entertainment, and they were Messrs. William C.

Drouet, Wm. E. Lloyd, Wm. E. Bunton and Norval Bacon. Miss Dollof gave a brilliant piano selection, Miss Olive Doe was heard with pleasure in a violin solo; Mrs. Coolidge, who is always a favorite, gave a reading, and Miss Vina Bunton contributed a sweetly rendered vocal solo. A short farce entitled "The New Teacher", had been worked up and promised to be the crowning feature of the program. Its presentation was marred by the absence of Mr. Walter Vaughn, who was cast for one of the principal parts. Mr. Drouet impersonated the female school teacher and looked too sweet for anything.

Correspondence

Arlington Advocate,
Arlington, Mass.

Dear Sir:

I think that any right minded citizen who has the best welfare of his town at heart, would be sadly remiss in his duty if he did not take a little of his time to commend any department head of our town for outstanding work during the year.

I have in mind our police department who thru the watchfulness of the chief of that department has so governed the finances of his department that in line of cost Arlington's Police Department ranks the lowest of any town of our size in the State. That is a most commendable situation and a great deal of credit belongs to Chief Bullock for care and watchfulness to accomplish just what he has during these last months. Chief Bullock, should he read this, may be rather surprised at any statement along the lines of favorable comment from me, but I want to be fair-minded and take this opportunity to tell our citizens that a goodly portion of gratitude as taxpayers belongs to Chief Bullock for his careful and economical management of the finances of his department, without weakening the department heads.

Sincerely yours,
BERNARD R. FREEMAN,

SAVE MILLIONS

The annual report of the division of town planning, State Department of Public Welfare, carries a sound proposal which bears perusal. It follows:

Massachusetts needs a planning enabling law and a state planning board. These proposals have been twice before the legislature, but too few people are planning-minded and this, coupled with inertia partly due to economic conditions, have resulted in nothing.

State planning is even more essential than town planning. This applies to highways, to public open spaces, of which we have too few, to state forests, to areas for protecting public water supplies, to public institutions, and to all other elements of the physical development of the area. And just as important is a policy for the protection of main highways after they are developed.

The East Boston vehicular tunnel connects the most congested portion of Boston with an island. The interchange of traffic between these two points is limited primarily by what originates on the island, moves towards Boston in the morning and returns in the evening. It seems never to have been considered as to whether this amount of traffic would justify the millions which the tunnel cost. Tolls are charged and the enterprise does not justify itself. It is therefore proposed to spend more millions to develop a way across the island, then on to the mainland, and make it a through route to the north. A little of this through traffic may be expected to originate in the old city, but the bulk of it, if it is ever to amount to anything, must come from other parts of the city and from points north and south. But the old city is so overdeveloped with buildings in relation to its street system that traffic can't pass through it, and more millions are to be spent to finish the already partially developed circumferential by-pass so that traffic may be cleared as rapidly as possible round the city. Through traffic is to be cared for in this way. The more or less well developed business question arises as to just why the East Boston vehicular tunnel was built, and as to the soundness of such planning, such coordination—or does it merely mean the absence of planning and coordination?

The Boston-Worcester road cost $175,000 per mile. It was, presumably, developed to expedite traffic. Its borders are unprotected, dance halls, filling stations, stores, all kinds of uses are developing on its bordering lands. Parked cars, many and increasing intersecting streets, private driveways, occupy the lanes of travel and interfere with the movement of traffic. One car parked in every 500 feet will effectively keep traffic out of one lane of travel, slow down the inner lane to the speed of the slower vehicle, or oblige passing to the right when a chance comes between parked cars. Cars entering from private ways will frequently block such passing. A four-lane way, two rapid, two slow, will thus be reduced to two slow. At least three additional ways of the same kind will have to be built to clear the traffic this road, protected, could clear.

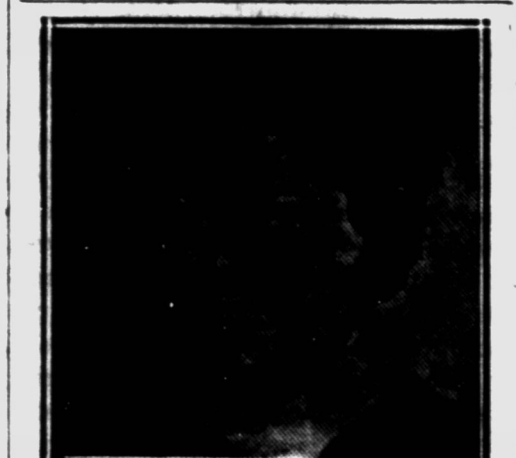

It is assumed that planning costs money. Planning, budgeting, scheduling developments according to need, save money and will do more to promote economy and efficiency than anything else. Right planning and protection in the two cases used as illustrations would have saved a capital fund which would have paid the cost of state and local planning for all time, and this would guarantee the saving of many billions.

The thoughtless argue that super highways develop great opportunities for business and that taxable values may be increased by using abutting lands for business purposes. This is stressed by the owners of the land and by town officers. The facts are that main highway frontages are to a very limited degree good business frontages. If the lands bordering our state highways alone were solidly and substantially developed for business they would meet the trading needs of 50,000,000 people. We have not, and will not have, that many people. Moreover, we already have

ST. JEROME'S TO CONDUCT ANOTHER BIG PENNY SALE

Capacity Crowd Expected at Robbins Memorial Town Hall
Wednesday Evening. Mrs. J. Claude Shea Is Chairman of Large Committee.

Robbins Memorial Town Hall, Arlington Center, will once again be the mecca for penny sale enthusiasts next Wednesday evening, when a second monster sale for St. Jerome's Arlington-Belmont Parish will be conducted under the auspices of Mrs. J. Claude Shea, whose gigantic sale last October so pleased the capacity crowd that attended.

MRS. J. CLAUDE SHEA

Mrs. Shea will be assisted in the conduct of the sale by the following committees: Stage—Mrs. O. N. Olson, Chairman, assisted by Mesdames J. Carey, A. Tassinari and Arthur Dillon; Floor Committee—Mr. Richard Donovan, Chairman, assisted by Messrs. Joe Hallisey, Jos. Carey, John Murphy and Charles Potter; Sale Committee—Mrs. O. N. Olson, Chairman, assisted by Messrs. Dan Mahoney and Mrs. A. Edge and the Misses Rita Olson and Marion O'Connor, who will be assisted by the Misses Eleanor Doyle, Marie Hyman, Mary Potter, Mary Dillon, Agnes Dacey, Louise Dacey, D. Lenox, Gertrude Cruise, Helen O'Connor, Margaret Crayton, Mary Cronin, M. Toomey, Dorothy Shallow, Virginia Shallow and Irene and Marion Lowe, and Mesdames M. Moriarty, R. Keefe, F. Rosenberger, N. Decereau and J. H. Glennon. Chance Committee: Mrs. R. Donovan and Mrs. Jos. Hallisey and the Business Committee is comprised of J. Claude Shea, Chairman, assisted by Messrs. E. Potter, J. E. Daly, C. E. Shea, R. Lyshon, E. Dougherty and John Glennon.

Rev. Jos. M. Fitzgibbons, well known for his organization work while in Brookline, Gloucester and Winchester parishes, is making remarkable progress with his new Church which, were it not for the recent stormy weather, would be very near completed. The windows and pews are gems for beauty of design and craftsmanship and many of both were subscribed for after the several Masses on last Sunday when they frontages extensive enough to meet the needs of more people than we will ever have, and we have zoned for business, omitting all state highway frontages, five times as much land for business as can ever be used in a sound economical way.

Our main highways must be used for expediting traffic. If we want to enjoy our highways and support our summer industry we must protect the natural beauty along their borders.

As to main highways, inter-city ways, they are built at great public expense, mostly at the expense of automobilists through the gas tax, to facilitate traffic. Each new road is built on land for which the owner is paid many times its assessed value, and which assessment he always says is too high. After the road is built the abutting land owner expects to appropriate the road entirely to his own uses. Through a right use of the road a landowner has enormous advantages. From it at some proper point he has access to his land and may convert the whole to any use for which there is any need. Where there is need each development, with its proper system of streets, can function and cause no injury to the main way. But the main way must be restricted to traffic uses. It is killed if it is unrestricted.

were displayed for the first time. Father Fitzgibbons promises to have the fourteen Stations of the Cross, paintings in oil with beautiful hand-carved frames, ready very shortly.

The proceeds from the penny sale go to augment the parish building fund and judging from the large number of beautiful and useful gifts secured by the Donations Committee comprised of Mr. Wm. Hearn, Chairman, assisted by Mrs. R. Donovan, Mrs. E. Potter, Mrs. A. Edge, Mrs. Stephen Connolly and Mrs. John Murphy and Mrs. Frank Hayes an appreciable sum should be realized. Among these donations are orders for coal and range oil, pillows, lamps and potted plants, as well as an abundance of fruit, groceries and canned goods.

PROBATE COURT

To all persons interested in the estate of Mary G. Carroll of Arlington in said County, under conservatorship.

The conservator of the property of said Mary G. Carroll has presented to said Court, for allowance his first account.

If you desire to object thereto you or your attorney should file a written appearance in said Court at Cambridge before ten o'clock in the forenoon on the twelfth day of February 1935, the return day of this citation.

Now that the snow is cleared away from your house, the postman should be bringing you letters and stamps from other members in the near future, in fact just as soon as a sufficient number of you send in the application blanks, so that your names and addresses can be listed in this column.

Don't think that you are going to write to persons residing in Arlington alone, as you will no doubt find names of stamp fans in many parts of the state, as well as other parts of this country. In writing these persons you not only obtain a chance for disposing of your duplicate stamps for other stamps which you desire, but secure a pen pal as well.

It is not necessary for you to wait until you have secured the blanks from four different editions of this paper as the blanks in each paper are the same. If you have two of these blanks at this time, you might obtain the full number desired by asking the neighbors for the blanks in their papers. The blanks should be sent in to the paper as soon as possible, in order that the exchange can be started. I know that you will secure a lot of benefit from this, in many ways.

Why not try and send your blanks to the paper this week? If many will do this, the club will be started, and you will have a start on the members to follow, as you will have letters in the mail and connections made by the time the others join.

Investigation

During the past few months, many newspapers throughout the country, have contained articles relative to the issuing of special stamps by the Postmaster General, for his friends and their friends. This is an improper thing to do, and I believe that these reports should be investigated. If they are correct, the stamp collectors of the country should demand the resignation of the party responsible, but until the reports are investigated, I also am in favor of not accusing any person.

It now appears that Congressional investigations of these reports will be undertaken, as Representative Millard, Rep. of New York, is mentioned as calling the attention of the house to this matter on last Monday, January 28th. He will ask to have Postmaster General Farley summoned before the house Post Office Commission to answer these reports. We all hope that he will obtain the answer.

This subject is of great importance to the stamp collectors in general, and as there are many, who read this paper, and are not members of the Arlington Stamp Club, I would like to have them send any suggestions they may have on the

WITH PARTY FOR CHURCH OFFICERS

and gentlemen all around the board, proceeded to exemplify the spirit of the slogan and for a couple of hours a thoroughly good time was enjoyed. It was not all merriment, however, as behind it all was the thought of the reason for the affair, but when some of the more emotional might have been on the verge of tears, the toastmaster skillfully steered the program into smoother waters.

The special guest of the evening was Mrs. Barber, Rev. Mr. Barber's mother, who gave an amusing incident of her teaching days. Other special features were operative variations of "Bonnie Annie Laurie", by Mrs. Eagleson, and a dissertation by Deacon Maurice Hatch, on "Give Me Liberty or Give Me Death". Mr. Barber brought the exercises to a close with an eloquent and appreciative tribute to the services of Mr. Kidder as moderator and deacon of the church for so many years. Not the least of the charm of the affair was the informal, impromptu character of the exercises, everybody taking the hits in good part and laughing at the jokes, even when they were of last year's coinage. At the end all joined hands and sang a verse of "Blest be the Tie That Binds".

During the evening a book with autographs of the guests was presented to Mr. Kidder, while a beautiful azalea in full bloom was given to Mrs. Kidder. Generous expressions of good will were heard at the end and it was unanimously voted that the occasion was well worthy of the trip in zero weather.

Those present included Mrs. Barber, Rev. and Mrs. Laurence L. Barber, Deacon and Mrs. Bernard G. Teel, Deacon and Mrs. Ernest A. Snow, Deacon and Mrs. A. C. Eagleson, Deacon and Mrs. Maurice L. Hatch, Deacon and Mrs. Henry C. Guernsey, Deacon Ernest Southwick, Moderator and Mrs. Earl S. Lewis and Mr. and Mrs. Henry A. Kidder.

"Vision of Youth" To Be Given By 1st Baptist "C. E."

This Sunday at six o'clock the First Baptist Christian Endeavor Society is to give the play "Visions of Youth". It is the story of the founding of "C. E." Some sixty years ago in a little church in Williston, Me. Mrs. Grady Feagan has coached this play in which Marchant Eldridge and Miss Barbara Hanson take the principal parts of Dr. and Mrs. Clark, who founded "C. E." The play is in three acts and has a cast of twenty-one. All the Arlington Churches Young People's Societies are being invited to attend the play and enjoy the refreshments afterwards. The cast is as follows:

Welfare Council Has Busy Month

The Welfare Council has just completed a very active month's work.

More than forty private snow shoveling jobs were given out since the recent big storm, an effort being made to give the work to men who are not eligible for some reason to secure work on the ERA. With the almost certain prospects of more such storms in February, those families needing their driveways and walks cleared, should remember to apply at the Council office in the Old Town Hall, or telephone Arl. 6206, and able-bodied men will be sent.

Clothing distribution was unusually heavy, six hundred pieces being given out from both the council clothing supply room, and from Federal clothing stock. It is well to call to the attention of the townspeople right here that warm clothing, shoes, etc., would be more than welcome if left at the council office. At a recent board meeting of the council, it was voted to apply for membership in the family Welfare Association of America, it now being eligible, as a paid worker is employed. The work of the council in its investigations will be speeded up by membership in this national organization, especially when out-of-state contact is necessary.

Hallisey Pupils Entertain At President's Ball

Pupils of the Laura A. Hallisey Dance Studios presented a lengthy program of songs and dances last Wednesday evening at President Roosevelt's Ball in Memorial Hall, Harvard University, Cambridge. With the actual cast from her recent successful musical comedy, "Dancing Debutante", Miss Hallisey repeated many group dances, and solo specialties from the show. The talented youngsters volunteered their work toward the affair for the benefit of the unfortunate youngsters afflicted with infantile paralysis.

Among those who appeared are The Alton Four, Vin, Eddie, Hugh and Hy, Jean Brogan, Norma and Ursula, Gallenani, Harold Burbridge, Eleanor Rayer, Helen and Ruth Donahue, Muriel Burness, Gertrude Clifford, Louise Daley, Mary and Grace Lynch, Dorothy Dorfinger, Catherine Cotter, Alha Deterio, Florence Cook, Gertrude Budeau, Mary Casalou, Florence Lowe, Corine Lloyd and many young men. A party was formed and the entire company went to Slade's Barbeque after the ball.

MISS POWERS STARS IN FRENCH PLAY

Miss Leona Powers, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. J. R. Powers of 38 Harvard Street, recently took the leading part in the production of the Academie Francaise of Boston College.

Miss Powers made a demure little French girl in her Breton costume of full black skirt, blue tight-fitting waist, and embroidered apron, with white-winged bonnet. Her scenes, first with Joel, later with her lover Jean-Marie was acted with sincerity and girlish charm.

Her beautiful French accent acquired at Marycliff Academy where she spent twelve years, also her work in French plays at Emmanuel and Regis Colleges, was commented upon by the audience, many thinking her a French girl.

Give Farewell Party to Mrs. Ralph J. Wilson

The Mysticside Group of the Arlington First Baptist Church met at the home of Mrs. Harold N. Clarke last Friday, the occasion being a farewell party for Mrs. Ralph J. Wilson who intends to make her future home in California. A covered dish luncheon was enjoyed, after which Mrs. Wm. R. Bars in a few well-chosen words on behalf of the group presented Mrs. Wilson with gold clips in appreciation of her two years work as leader.

Mrs. Wilson will be greatly missed in her group as well as all church activities.

FORMER COOLIDGE HOUSE-KEEPER SPEAKS HERE

Miss Ella Riley, housekeeper and custodian at the White House during the Coolidge administration, spoke to approximately 60 members and friends of the Win One Class of the First Baptist Church last Monday evening. Everybody keenly enjoyed Miss Riley's presentation of routine and special events, and of many of her own personal experiences, while she was employed by the former President and Mrs. Coolidge.

Coffee and a very delicious assortment of home made cookies were served by the hostess for the evening, Mrs. Abbie Barnes, and her assistants, Mrs. Isabelle Scheibel, Mrs. Verna Brown and Mrs. Elizabeth Phillips.

TELLS WHY ARLINGTONIANS SHOULD CONTRIBUTE TOWARD EMERGENCY RELIEF CAMPAIGN

The Emergency Relief Campaign for 1935 is under way in Arlington. Because many people have asked why Arlington should contribute to a Boston fund, the chairman offers the following answer:

"In 1934, 84 Arlington children made use of one or another of the agencies in Boston, apart from the hospitals, and in 1933, 747 Arlington persons used the ward service of the Boston Hospitals. (The 1934 records are not yet completed.) The word service of the hospitals always leaves a large deficit, hence the need of help from the Metropolitan district."

The Capitol and Regent Theatres of this town are cooperating with the work in Arlington by showing this week a movie short of the workings of the Boston agencies.

Mrs. Dolores Osborne Keleher is chairman for the work in Arlington, and is being assisted by the following people: Mrs. George Severance, vice-chairman; Miss Helen Foster, Mrs. John Golden, Miss Dorothy Greene, Miss Mildred Greene, Mrs. Herbert Gunnerson, Ralph Hardy, Miss Marion Hatch, Miss Barbara Lawson, J. Herbert Mead, Mrs. William A. Muller, Mrs. Frank Nazro, Roscoe R. Perry, A. W. Platine, Mrs. Edward Shine, J. F. Wood.

It is hoped that the townspeople will cooperate with these workers in making the campaign a success in Arlington.

SCHOOL COMM. REPORT SHOWS DROP IN EDUCATIONAL COST

the important specialized fields—music, art, dramatics, manual and domestic arts, sports and athletics—pupils have won distinction and brought credit to Arlington both locally and in competition with other communities.

Records show that enrollment is steadily growing, especially in the upper grades. The senior high school has increased from an average membership of 1061 in 1930-31 to 1417 in 1933-34, and to 1512 for the fall term of 1934.

The junior high schools have increased from 1467 in 1930-31 to 1600 in 1933-34 and to 1647 in the fall term of 1934. The elementary schools show a smaller increase, due chiefly to the discontinuance of sub-primary classes in 1931 and to raising the age of admission to the first grade. In 1930-31 the average membership was 3598; in 1933-34 it was 3644, and in the fall term of 1934, 3714 pupils. The total growth has been from 6126 in 1930-31 to 6873 in the fall of 1934.

The average membership for the year ending June 30, 1934, in the different schools was as follows:

Senior High School	1447
Junior High School Center	433
Junior High School East	528
Junior High School West	609
Junior High School of Industrial Arts	80
Brackett School	375
Crosby School	479
Cutter School	506
Hardy School	605
Locke School	477
Parmenter School	209
Peirce School	519
Russell School	394

The report shows that the whole number of teachers, principals and supervisors employed has not increased during this period to correspond with the growth in membership, but has been decreased by the School Committee from 279 in November 1931 to 266 in November 1934.

Owing in large part to the erection of the Brackett School and the High School addition in 1931 and 1932, all pupils have been, and for the next year at least, can be amply accommodated.

An interesting comparison is given of current expenses during the "depression" period, 1931 to 1934. The outstanding feature is the amount of reductions made in different parts of the budget. These are the more notable in contrast to the increase in membership and in buildings. Expenditures in 1931 and in 1934 and the differences are as follows:

General Control, reduced from $22,535.47 to $17,296.54, a saving of $5,238.93.

Instructional Service, reduced from $549,008.85 to $521,834.59, a reduction of $27,174.26.

Operation of school plants (two additional buildings in 1934), reduced from $74,483.01 to $71,197.37, or $3,285.64 less.

Maintenance and Repairs (two additional buildings in 1934) increased from $28,460.93 to $30,580.67, or $2,119.74 more.

Auxiliary Agencies (health activities, summer playgrounds, Spy Pond Field and school sports), reduced from $20,253.71 to $14,853.55, a saving of $5,400.16.

Capital Outlay, reduced from $13,451.33 to $2,761.99, a drastic cut of $10,689.34.

MRS. WYMAN'S PARENTS OBSERVE 65th ANNIVERSARY

The Boston papers this week took due notice of the celebration of the 65th wedding anniversary of Mr. and Mrs. Eugene A. Bailey the parents of Mrs. Charles F. Wyman with whom they live at 121 Lake Street. The Globe carried a picture of the couple and a story which follows:

The couple, who are enjoying good health, despite their advanced age, will be informally "at home" this evening (Tuesday) to their many friends, including a large number from Somerville, where up to three months ago they made their home for 46 years. They have now broken up housekeeping and will live with their daughters.

Today the couple were the recipients of numerous missives of a congratulatory nature, also flowers, gifts and other remembrances.

Assisting them at tonight's reception will be their four daughters, Mrs. Wyman and Mrs. Wallace C. Sprague of Arlington, Mrs. Hiram B. Andrews of Medford and Mrs. Oscar C. Peterson of Needham. There are four generations in the Bailey family group, for in addition to the elderly couple and their daughters, Mr. and Mrs. Bailey have five grandchildren and 10 great grandchildren.

Mr. and Mrs. Bailey were married in Newcastle, Me. Mr. Bailey was born in Wiscasset, Me., on July 9, 1851, and until he retired he was for years a carpenter in Somerville. He is the second oldest member of Erambec Lodge, I. O. O. F., of Wiscasset, Me. He joined the lodge in 1885.

Mrs. Bailey, who was Jennie Bell Fraser before her marriage, is a native of Pictou, N. S., where she was born on April 2, 1851.

of Evening Summer Playgrounds), reduced from $9,441.32 to $4,556.41 or $4,884.91 less.

The total amount expended for current expenses in 1931 was $717,634.62, and in 1934, $663,081.12, a total reduction of $54,553.50.

(The figures for 1934 include bills paid and outstanding orders up to January 8, 1935. The amount when accounts are finally closed will probably be slightly smaller.)

The average membership for the fiscal year 1931 was 6170 and for 1934, 6710. The cost per pupil, therefore, dropped from $116.31 to $98.82.

The report records also receipts from the State and from all other sources which do not appear as such in the town financial reports, but which actually reduce the amount to be raised by local taxation for school support. In 1931, the amount of such receipts was $59,952.07; in 1934, it was $62,504.08.

The report gives another interesting bit of information concerning amounts raised by local taxation for new school buildings and for principal and interest paid on school bonds. These really constitute a part of the cost of education. In 1931, the total amount of such items raised and paid from local taxes, as shown in the town financial records was $245,142.50. For 1934, the corresponding amount was $139,120, or $106,022.50 less.

This reduction, together with that in current expenses and the increase of $2,552 in receipts, means a favorable difference since 1931 in the local tax burden of $163,128 (not including contributions of employees in 1934, amounting to $26,475).

A great deal of valuable and needed work was done during the year by welfare workers and through Federal aided projects. Extensive painting jobs, repointing outside walls, electrical work, numerous carpentry jobs and resealing the Spy Pond Field grandstand, were among the outstanding jobs.

The report calls attention to the need of fireproof stairways in the three-story Russell School building to remove fire and panic hazard for over four hundred small children in attendance there.

Mention is also made of the desirability of completing the high school auditorium and of continuing the policy of installing sprinkler systems in inflammable buildings, particularly in the Locke School.

The statistical tables show that 317 students graduated from the senior high school in June, and 413 from the junior high schools.

Two teachers retired in June, Eva G. Jones, instructor of English in the Junior High School Center, and Annie W. Cobb, first grade teacher in the Crosby School. They had both rendered long and valuable service in Arlington.

The number of resignations, transfers and new appointments during the year past was somewhat greater than in 1933, but still much under the usual number in normal times.

Arlington Kiwanis' Club

Meets Every Thursday Noon at Wyman's Tavern

Ray Mauger was back with us again, in his old time form of making the piano sit up and take notice of the fact that the crowd were back again to a full meeting after our heavy snowfall.

We were entertained today by a representative from the Emergency Fund Campaign, who gave us a very interesting illustrated lecture on the need of raising an immense fund to take care of our present emergencies.

Town Topics

—At Symmes Arlington Hospital on January 23 a son was born to Mr. and Mrs. Russell Winfield McKinley of 173 Highland Avenue.

—Sunday private services were held at the Hartwell Funeral Chapel at 792 Massachusetts avenue for Harry P. Wilson who died here last Friday.

—The son which was born to Mr. and Mrs. Rudolph Gegut of 223 Cedar Avenue on January 14 has been named Robert Edward Gegut.

—The J. A. O. bridge club held its regular meeting at the home of Mrs. Robert Arnold, Tanager street, last Tuesday evening, January 29, with Mrs. Chester Eaton, hostess. Three tables of bridge were in play. The first prize was won by Mrs. Robert Arnold; second, by Miss Hazel Rees and Mrs. Conway received consolation. Delicious refreshments were served.

—Dr. Brace I. Lawley who has been seriously ill at his home, 25 Endicott road, is quite recovered. No doubt the postal card shower sent by the Rotary Club was a contributing factor. He gave the several physicians in attendance a real test of skill.

—The speaker scheduled for the Rotary Club was ill, so President Daniel B. Tierney called on Vice-President Clarence H. Moore to submit his report of the Rotary Conference held at Waltham recently. He was followed by the president and very briefly by Myrl Erickson.

—The Leland Powers Foundation in Boston will present Dame Sybil Thorndike, the distinguished English actress, Sunday evening, February 3rd, who will speak on the subject, "The Theatre—Its Value to the Community", at 31 Evans way, Boston.

—Mrs. Carmela Camerano of 44 Arnold Street suffered a shock in the Old Town Hall Wednesday morning and was taken to Symmes Arlington Hospital in the police ambulance.

—Miles Hogan, 17, of 56 Henderson Street was struck and injured Friday afternoon on Mill Street by a truck operated by Joseph Goodwin of Pearl Street, Lexington. Hogan was treated by a physician for his injuries.

—At their meeting Monday night the Selectmen drew the names of two jurors—DeWitt C. McCabe of 277 Appleton Street, first criminal session at Lowell, March 4; Walter N. MacFarlane, 35 Cleveland Street, first civil session at Cambridge, February 18.

—The Brackett P. T. A. will present Richard Cartwright the magic man in a program of magic and chalk drawings, also two motion pictures, "Elephant's Elbow" and "Lords of the Back Fence", Saturday at 2.30 in the Brackett School auditorium. The impossible conditions of the road around the school prevented the program being given last week as scheduled.

—Miss Gertrude King of Newport Street will be hostess at the membership tea at the Caspy Club, 48 Boylston Street, Boston, on Sunday afternoon. The regular open meeting for members and friends will be held at 6. Royal A. Gunnison staff correspondent of the Christian Science Monitor who has just returned from the Geneva Conference where he has been reporting the events for the Associated Press, will speak on "Highlights of the Geneva Conference", with special reference to Germany, Belgium and Italy.

—Both automobiles were badly damaged at about two-thirty Wednesday morning, when Robert H. Little of Woburn drove his machine into another which was parked in front of 204 Summer street. The second car was owned by Frank J. Sullivan of Mattapan. He was sitting in the car with a companion at the time of the crash, but no one was injured.

—At a meeting of the organization committee of the Burdett College Alumni Association Wednesday evening in Boston, Harry E. Woods of 35 Surry Road was elected president. Miss Frances Murray, a member of the high school faculty was appointed to the publication committee, and James Higgins of the Boston Herald, who resides at 1011 Massachusetts Avenue and Miss Anna B. Callahan of Webster Street were appointed to the publicity committee. Among the plans outlined at the meeting was a reunion and banquet to be held on April 24.

—The Crescent Players of the First Methodist Church held a business meeting at the church on Monday evening. About forty members were present. After the transaction of business, a talk and demonstration was given on the art of makeup. Two models were used: Miss Enid Williams and William Farnsworth. Refreshments were served at the close of the evening. Wednesday evening, the club met for a party at the home of its president, Robert K. Brown of 46 Westmoreland Avenue.
